

Good Neighbor Hotel Perks

CHECKLIST

WELCOME

One of the biggest and priciest decisions you'll make related to your Disney World vacation is...selecting a hotel for your stay.

Disney World has over 25 hotels of its own. But there are also DOZENS of non-Disney-owned hotels to choose from. Some of these are considered "Good Neighbor" hotels – they're not owned by Disney, but they have a special relationship with Disney in that they provide Disney information and you can book a room & ticket package for them.

But every hotel comes with its own set of pros and cons. Do you want walking access to a theme park? What about a large suite so the family can spread out? Do you want Disney perks like Early Theme Park Entry? There are a LOT of factors to consider.

We've created this checklist to help you on your hotel selection journey. Use this guide as a tool to see what perks staying on Disney World property might offer you, versus staying off property. You can take a look at different features, see what things are important to you, and hopefully narrow down what options might be best.

Please just keep in mind that ALL things noted in this guide are subject to change. The information contained here is for informational and entertainment purposes only. You are advised to do your own diligence in researching before making travel decisions. Always check important details with the hotels you're considering BEFORE booking one, and check again ahead of your arrival for any last-minute updates.

Alright, let's dive in!

NOTES & DISCLAIMERS

CHANGE AND VERIFICATION

Please keep in mind that ALL things noted in this are subject to change. Parking fees, pricing, shuttle availability, etc. can change at any moment, completely unannounced. The information contained here is for informational and entertainment purposes only. You are advised to do your own diligence in researching before making travel decisions. All information, products, and services that have been mentioned should be independently verified. Always check important details with the hotels you're thinking about staying at BEFORE booking one and check again ahead of your arrival for any last-minute updates.

PRICING

Pricing for these hotels can vary greatly depending on a number of factors – when you're visiting, what discounts/offers are available/you may qualify for, and more.

We divided things up here based on Disney's pricing levels and then generally looked at pricing for a trip around April 17th-23rd, 2026 to look at pricing for most of the hotels. Keep in mind that the price of your room/trip may be more or less expensive depending on a number of factors.

KITCHENETTES & FULL KITCHENS

For this category, we generally looked for rooms that had a mini fridge, microwave, AND sink set-up (at least). Some rooms may have a mini fridge and microwave, but no sink – we didn't consider that to be a kitchenette.

Keep in mind that while some hotels may have a checkmark for the kitchenette/full kitchen category, that does NOT necessarily mean that all rooms at that hotel offer that benefit. These kitchenette/kitchen set-ups may only be available in select rooms (sometimes only the more expensive suite options) – so be sure to look carefully when booking at what the room you're looking at offers.

NOTES & DISCLAIMERS

ONSITE DINING

This was “checkmarked” generally for any hotel offering anything MORE than just a free breakfast. But onsite dining offerings can vary WILDLY between hotels – especially at the non-Disney owned hotels. You may find a hotel only offers free breakfast + a small bar with light bites at dinner, while another hotel may offer multiple sit-down Table Service dining options + Quick Service options + more. It all depends! Check the hotel you’re thinking of booking BEFORE making any reservations to see exactly what they offer and what times those spots are open so you have a better idea of what to expect.

TRANSPORTATION/ PROXIMITY CALCULATIONS

To calculate how long it takes to get from point A to point B, we utilized Google Maps and used the highest estimated approximate travel time in minutes.

Generally speaking, the times we've included are TRAVEL times. That means it's the time it will generally take you to get from spot A to spot B once you are actually seated in the vehicle. But your TOTAL transportation time will vary GREATLY. For overall travel time, you'll want to factor in (1) time to walk to the bus stop, skyliner station, parking area, etc., (2) time to wait for the transportation vehicle to arrive, (3) time for the transportation vehicle to make multiple stops within the hotel - not always the case but often happens for Disney World's moderate hotels with various internal bus stops, (4) travel time - which we've included, (5) time to get off the transportation method and walk to the entrance gate of the park, (6) time to go through security, and ultimately (7) time to walk to whatever spot you're trying to get to - i.e. a restaurant that might be deep inside the park, etc. Generally, we suggest giving yourself 45 min-1 hour to get anywhere once ON Disney property. Even when staying on Disney property, a 16 min transportation time can EASILY be a 45 min adventure in reality, so please plan accordingly.

For transportation offered by off-site hotels, be sure to verify the situation as each hotel can be different. Some offer more scheduled routes, while others may require you to request transportation. Some of these buses may also make multiple stops and will be available much less frequently than Disney World's owned and operated buses.

NOTES & DISCLAIMERS

QUIET POOLS

We only checkmarked this if there is a quiet pool IN ADDITION to another general use pool at the hotel. So, if the hotel only has one pool, by default we did not select the “quiet pool” category for that hotel as all guests would have to use it and it may not in fact be all that quiet!

ONSITE ACTIVITIES

This was checkmarked for any hotel with offerings that included a fitness center, arcade, etc. Onsite activities can vary a LOT between hotels. Some hotels may ONLY have a pool and fitness center as their “onsite activities.” Others may offer mini golf, a mini water park, and MUCH more. Always be sure to verify exactly what onsite activities the hotel you’re looking at may offer.

VIEWS OF FIREWORKS/NIGHTTIME SPECTACULARS

The views may be restricted, may only be from the rooms (i.e. not in general resort areas), and may only be for select rooms/spaces – often on the higher floors. Some hotels may specifically designate “fireworks view” rooms for you to book, while others are not noted that way. For ones that don’t have a “fireworks view” category, you may want to note it in the request for the room, ask for a higher floor, etc.

For non-Disney owned and operated hotels, keep in mind that these fireworks views may be VERY distant – still there, but distant, so don’t expect to be right up close to the big booms.
